SAYLER MADE POLICE JUDGE

COUNCIL NAMES SUCCESSOR TO W. L. JOHNSON.

REFUNDS ARE ORDERED

Several Water Users To Get Back $25 Deposits.—An Unused Alley Is Vacated.

Judge J. H. Sayler was named city police magistrate at the regular monthly meeting of the City Council last night. Judge Sayler will succeed the late Judge W. L. Johnson, who died several weeks ago.

Mayor W. O. Garrett has been acting as police judge temporarily. The appointment of Judge Sayler was submitted by Mayor Garrett and confirmed by the council.

The council also passed two ordinances last night. One formally vacates an unused alley theoretically running west from Main street between the First Methodist Church and the Physician's building, and the other authorizes the refunding of $25 deposits made by several property owners to secure the extension of water mains.

Alley Never In Use.

The vacated alley was laid out originally to run through the center of the east half of the block bounded by Main, First, Buchanan and Second streets, but has never been in use. Through the west half of the block the alley was closed by ordinance several years ago. The formal closing of the east half was asked in a petition signed by Doctors Charles T. Bell, William M. Wallis, jr., and Frank C. Wallis, and by C. C. Corwin, president, and H. E. Wright, secretary of the board of trustees of the First Methodist Church. The title to the strip vacated reverts to the adjacent property on each side.

The authorization for refunds to water users carries out an agreement made several months ago when several extensions of service lines were made on condition that those requesting them make deposits of $25 each. Others now are seeking to join onto the lines, and the city was faced with the necessity of charging them $25 also or of making refunds to the original petitioners.

One of the service lines was placed in the alley running east from Grand avenue between Third street and Normal avenue. Another is on East Jenkins street and the third in an alley in the block bounded by Fifth and Sixth, Buchanan and Fillmore streets. Miss Olive DeLuce, W. B. Carter, J. W. Hake, Fred Smith, Earl Henderson, Harold Heaton, M. S. Hamilton and Margaret A. Haworth each will receive $25, and W. L. Rhodes, having two permits, will get $50.

Permits Are Granted.

The application of John Boyles for permission to erect another hamburger restaurant on East Third street was granted. H. R. Juvenal was granted permission to plant two trees of hardy variety in the parkway in front of his home on South Main street, and Henry Wilson was given similar permission to plant three catalpha trees in the parkway in front of his home at 422 West Fifth street.

Mayor Garrett, as city collector, reported total tax collections of $25.63 during the month.

The water department, with receipts during the month of $3,127.33, showed an increase in balance of $1,340.70. On September 1, the total balance was $38,871.07. This figure will shrink somewhat this month when payment is made for a carload of pipe used in extension and maintenance of mains.

September 1 balances in other funds were as follows: Street, $2,627.35; library, $2,028.71; general, $11,053.08; first water bond principal, $3,701.35; first water bond interest, $807.09; street workers guarantee, $301; street lighting, $903.06; second water bond principal, $834.93; second water bond interest, $926.18; petty cash, $7.09; total in all funds, $62,060.91.

There was only one police court case during the month, a speeding charge netting the city treasury $5. Claud Stults, city weighmaster, reported scale collections of $11.70, and $2 from his washrack.

Two Are Very Low.

Mrs. John Musser is reported very low, having suffered a stroke of paralysis a few days ago. Mrs. Ellen Whitney is also very low at the home of Mrs. Hebron Sturgeon, her death being expected at any moment.—Hopkins Journal.

Public Library to Re-Open Saturday

Redecoration Now Is Nearly Complete.—838 Books And Magazines Loaned In 18 Days.

Redecoration and renovation of the Maryville Free Public Library have been nearly completed, and the institution will re-open Saturday morning at the usual time, it was announced today by Miss Grace Langan, librarian.

Miss Langan's monthly report to the city council at its meeting last night showed that in the eighteen days the library was open in August, it was visited by 342 readers, an average of 19 a day, while 838 books and magazines were loaned, an average of 56 a day. Eleven new readers' cards were issued. Fines yielded a revenue of $5.81 and penny-a-day books $3.35.

SOME DAMAGE FROM STORM

THIRD HEAVY RAIN IN AS MANY DAYS VISITS COUNTY.

MUCH LIGHTNING ALSO

One Barn Is Struck and Destroyed by Fire.—Bridge and Crop Damage Reported.

Again old Jupe Pluvius returned to Nodaway County last night and left a 2.5-inch rainfall in his wake. A severe electrical storm visited this community but no serious damage has been reported.

This was the third general rain in as many days, the total now being 3.92 inches.

Skidmore reported about three inches of rain last evening and some damages to the corn crop by the wind and hail.

The barn of Arthur Wellington, located eight miles southwest of Skidmore, was struck by lightning and destroyed by fire. The loss was about 175 bushels of corn, seven tons of hay and some harness. There was no loss in live stock. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Two approaches to bridges in the Skidmore community were washed out, according to reports from there. A new fill to a bridge near Charles Hitchcock's place, was washed out, and an approach to a bridge south of Skidmore was taken out by the high water.

W. F. Henderson, three miles west of Skidmore, reported some damages to his corn crop by hail. The apple orchard of Charles W. Barrett, two and a half miles west of Skidmore, was damaged by the wind and hail.

Ves Moody and Harry Purviance, living south of Maryville, reported a small stretch of their corn was blown down by the wind during the rain storm last evening.

T. A. Cummins, who has a farm southeast of Ravenwood, heard that some of his corn was destroyed by a hail storm during last evening's storm.

The Hastings bus line did not run on its usual schedule today because of the condition of the dirt roads between Maryville and St. Joseph. The One Hundred and Two river near Rosendale was threatening to leave its banks at any moment this morning and it was not thought advisable to operate any of the buses until the water had receeded.

Hail fell a few miles north of Graham last night causing some damage to grain and fruit in that vicinity. At Maitland rain measuring nearly three inches fell last night causing the creeks and the Nodaway river to rise. The Burlington tracks near there suffered a slight damage from the heavy rains and the southbound train was more than an hour and a half late this morning.

W. E. Goforth, local agent at the Burlington, says rain was reported all over this division of the Burlington. The morning Burlington was about fifteen minutes late and the noon train today was about thirty minutes late. The embankment to a small culvert was washed away between Savannah and Amazona and it took some little time to repair it.

Long distance telephone service in this section of the state was considerably damaged today as a result of damages by last night's storm.

A good heavy rain was reported from all over the county last night. The telephone lines to Burlington Junction, Clearmont, Elmo, Bedison, Clyde, Orrsburg and Quitman were out of commission today, caused by the electric storm last evening.

PEERY LEAVES SCHOOL BOARD

MEMBER SINCE 1920 RESIGNS WITHOUT STATEMENT.

FUNDS TO ALL BANKS

Equal Division Ordered At Meeting Last Night.—Miss Rosella Froman Elected As Teacher.

M. A. Peery resigned as a member of the school board at a meeting of the board held this afternoon. His letter of resignation was as follows:

"I hereby tender my resignation as a member of the Board of Education of Maryville to take effect at once."

The resignation was accepted by the board and it is expected that an appointment will be made by the board to fill the vacancy by tomorrow night, when another meeting is scheduled.

When seen this afternoon, Mr. Peery had no statement to make except that there was no friction between him and other members of the school board.

Mr. Peery had been a member of the board since December 4, 1920, when he was appointed to succeed James B. Robinson, who resigned. He was then elected in the spring of 1921, and has been re-elected at each election since that time.

The board selected the three Maryville banks as depositories for the funds of the school district, on the execution of a depository bond. Each bank will receive one-third of the money.

There are only two vacancies in the public schools, those held last year by Perry Eads and Miss Ruth Ramey, who resigned. It is expected these places will be filled tomorrow night.

The directors, meeting last night in the office of Cook & Cummins, elected Miss Rosella Froman, of Maryville, as teacher in the Jefferson ward school to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Gladys Allison. The board also decided that local lumber dealers should be allowed to make bids for supplying the manual training department of the public schools with materials for the 1926-27 school year.

The board will adopt the same music program as they had last year, with Charles R. Gardner, head of the conservatory of music at the State Teachers College, in charge of it. The selection of Miss Vesta Wright of Fairfax, who has been chosen by the College as one of the teachers at the demonstration school at the Franklin ward school, was approved by the board.

Self-Styled Baron Is Found to Be a Fraud

Alleged Disowned Son of German Munition Makers Discovered to Be Plain George A. Gador.

Albuquerque, N. M., Sept. 2.—The self-styled baron, George Exter Frederick Von Krupp, jr., who left a trail of worthless checks from coast to coast, was en route today to Wilmington, Del., in the custody of detectives as plain George Adorjan Gador.

Gador revealed his identity after more than a week's grilling by federal immigration officers during which time he varied only slightly from his original story of being the disowned son of the German munition manufacturers.

During his tour of America, Gador gained the confidence of such men as Henry Ford and was the guest of the commandant on an informal inspection tour of the U. S. army garrison at Governor's Island, N. Y., it was stated.

Moonshiner May Be Hunted With Planes

Washington, Sept. 2.—War on moonshiners from the sky is being considered by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews.

Airplanes have been successful in ferreting out rum runners and the advisibility of attacking rural distillers from the air is being studied, the dry czar said.

Andrews pointed out federal planes could patrol rural and mountain districts, detecting stills by the thin blue smoke that always betrays a moonshine plant.

While industrial alcohol has been the chief source of supply for bootleggers, Andrews believes his alcohol squad will plug this leak soon. The liquor vendors will be forced to depend upon moonshine and the dry force will concentrate on stills.

Local Legionnaires Back From Moberly

L. M. Eek Is Made Alternate Committeeman From Fourth District.—Best Convention Yet.

Ed Gray, John Mutz and Walter Todd, who attended the annual state convention of the American Legion at Moberly, returned to Maryville last night, making the trip in Mr. Gray's car. They came by way of Kansas City, taking advantage of the pavement on Federal highway No. 40, and having mud only between Huntsville and Marshall and between Savannah and the paving south of Maryville.

In addition to the election of Mr. Gray as a vice-commander of the state organization, L. M. Eek was made alternate on the state committee from the fourth district. Mr. Eek was unable to attend the convention.

Others who attended from Maryville were Dr. K. C. Sears and Miss Vivian Buhler, who was a delegate from the local auxiliary and also district committeewoman. They returned late Tuesday.

The convention, according to the Maryville delegation, was the most successful state meeting the legion has held.

ENROLLMENT IS STARTED

SENIORS AND JUNIORS FILL COURSE CARDS TODAY.

ACTIVITIES SCHEDULED

Arrangements Made For More Boys To Do Physical Education Work With Athletic Coach.

The Maryville High School enrollment for the first semester of the school year was started at 9 o'clock this morning in the music room on the second floor of the high school building. Seniors and juniors were enrolled today.

About fifty seniors of the beginning and advanced classes were enrolled by noon today and according to class estimates there are about twenty-five of senior ranking who are yet to report. The muddy roads have cut down the enrollment but as soon as the roads become passable more students will have reported.

No figures relative to individual class enrollment will be known until tomorrow morning when L. L. St. Clair, principal, has made a tabulation of the first day enrollment.

The schedule for tomorrow includes sophomores and freshmen. From 9 until 12 o'clock all sophomores should report and in the afternoon from 1:30 until 4 o'clock all freshmen.

In filling out the enrollment cards this year students are required to designate the activities in which they intend to enter. It is required that students belong to at least one activity. Every Monday morning the period is open to assemblies.

May Ask U. S. to Make Clear Its Reservations

Entrance to World Court May Be Held Up Pending Explanation to Other Signatory Powers.

Geneva, Sept. 2.—All signs this afternoon indicate that the United States would have to make its proposed reservations to the world court protocol more clear before the other signatory powers can accept them.

Sir George Foster, Canadian delegate to the conference of signatory powers now considering the American reservations, was given great applause when he advocated that the American government be asked to clarify the reservations.

DENY MEXICAN BODY IS LEGAL

MANIFESTO OF PROTEST SIGNED BY MANY DEPUTIES.

CHARGES ARMY AIDED

Asserts Number of Officers Seated Without Even Running For Office—Most Sensational.

Mexico City, Sept. 2.—The new Mexican Chamber of Deputies, which had its first session yesterday, was condemned as illegitimate today in a manifesto signed by deputies belonging to the group of the revolutionary party. The signers include representatives of eighteen states and more than one hundred deputies who refused to participate in the activities of the Chamber charging that were that body properly organized, they would have a majority.

The manifesto stated the Chamber was organized and installed in office through the employment of the national army. The members of the Chamber, it was added, were almost exclusively members of the alliance of the socialist party.

Going into detail, the manifesto asserted that many of the deputies were installed without complying with electoral laws, many even having never been candidates.

The manifesto of the opposition in the Chamber was the most sensational incident of the opening of Congress. The address of President Calles to the new congress held little that had not been anticipated.

Many Watching Firemen Hunt for Body

Kansas City, Sept. 2.—Nearly one thousand persons today watched a score of fireman drag the swollen waters of the Blue River here for the body of Viola Lewis, 5, believed to have drowned in the stream yesterday.

Drug in Stomach of Girl; Bail Is Denied

Four Youths and Older Man Held in Iowa Case Fail Again in Attempt to Gain Freedom.

Bedford, Ia., Sept. 2 (Special to Democrat-Forum and Tribune).—With a chemist's report stating that a drug had been found in the stomach of Pansy Turnbull, 17, the five men held in connection with her mysterious death again were refused bond here today.

Attorney J. R. Lock, representing the four youthful members of the quintet—Hal Howard, 15; John Howard, 20; John Beach, 19, and Terrance Luter, 19—offered to furnish $20,000 bond for each of his clients, but they were ordered retained in custody. Attorney Frank Wisdom, representing John Gibbons, 35, a deputy constable of Creston, also offered to furnish bond and was refused.

The grand jury continued its special investigation today, with no report expected until tomorrow night or Saturday.

Dr. Sam Bailey, coroner of Ringgold county, was one of the witnesses before the grand jury today. He brought with him the clothing worn by the dead girl.

Other witnesses to be called include Dr. Watson of Diagonal, an uncle of the dead girl, and Dr. Jessup, who attended her before death and also were present at the postmorten.

Finding of the drug, said to be used in "knockout drops" in the stomach of the girl, was followed closely Wednasday evening by the announcement of Taylor county authorities that a blanket found by John Kay, garage man, near the scene of the alleged crime, also will be sent to Iowa City for examination.

Dean Wilbur J. Teeters, of the University of Iowa pharmacy college, who examined the girl's internal organs, would not say that the drug caused death, but expressed the opinion that her dazed condition for several hours before death was brought about by the drug. Dean Teeters is among the witnesses who are expected to be called before the grand jury Thursday.

County Attorney Lucas said that finding of the drug confirmed his theory that the girl was drugged and later attacked.

An extra guard was added at the Bedford jail Wednesday. The sheriff, his deputy, and two special guards are now on watch against possible mob violence.

Valentino's Body Off to Hollywood Tonight

Brother Gives Consent For Burial In Famous "Film City" Where Star Rose To Prominence.

New York, Sept. 2.—Rudolph Valentino will be buried in Hollywood, the city in which he rose from obscurity to wealth and fame. The body will be sent to the Pacific coast this evening on the Lake Shore Limited, which departs at 6:30 o'clock. It will be in a special coach attached to the train. These plans were concurred in by Albert Gugliemni, Valentino's brother, who arrived here last night.

He said he had his sister's consent to act for her regarding the disposition of the body and that he had decided "to give the American people the thing dearest to my heart—my brother—because it has been fairly indicated to me that they love him and want him."

JARDINE TALKS OVER PROBLEM

SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE TO DISCUSS SITUATION.

WON'T HIT AT MEASURE

Will Explain His Ideas To Neighbors And Friends—G. O. P. Doesn't Mention Him.

Kansas City, Sept. 2.—Back on the threshold of his home state today, W. M. Jardine, Secretary of Agriculture, declared he was going on a trip through Kansas "not to rip the stuffing" out of the McNary-Haughen bill" but to "talk the agriculture situation man to man" and explain his ideas together with those of President Coolidge.

"When a man talks frankly about a problem," Secretary Jardine said, "he goes among his friends and neighbors. That is why I am coming to Kansas at this time. I know I can talk frankly with them about the farm problem."

The Republican state convention this week failed to mention their favorite son to become a cabinet member and the Democratic convention went on record as favoring the McNary-Haugen bill, a precedent within the ranks of the party.

"I am not here to criticize the farm relief bill defeated at the last session of Congress," Jardine said. "I want to do something in a constructive way. If the farmers of Missouri, Kansas or any other state want my views, I will be glad to give them."

Nicaraguan Organization Cables League Warning Against Support Of Present Administration.

Mexico City, Sept. 2.—Threatening the immediate withdrawl of Nicaragua from the League of Nations if the present rebellion there succeeds, the Nicaraguan revolutionary juanta today sent a cable to the League warning against its supporting President Chalmorro in his protest against alleged Mexican aid for the rebels. The cable that the Chalmorro government is illegal and that the legal Nicaraguan government is headed by Batiste Sacasa. It further stated that League support for Chalmorro would be regarded as "proof of its hostility to the real interests of the country."

Alleged Mail Robber in Jail in St. Louis

St. Louis, Sept. 2.—Milton J. Levine, 28, of Cleveland, said to be a nationally-known mail theif, is in jail here today unable to furnish a $10,000-bond following his arrest yesterday by federal authorities after he had taken a letter containing a check for $30 from a mail-box.

COUNCIL WAITS FOR OPINION

LEAGUE BODY MARKING TIME PENDING NOTE.

SPAIN IS STILL OUT

But This Nation Is Not Expected To Take Drastic Action.—Not Interested In Council Affairs.

Geneva, Sept. 2.—The Council of the League of Nations is now marking time until Spain sends a formal note setting forth her opinion on the refusal of the committee on reorganization to grant her demands for a permanent seat in the Council.

Spain was not represented in the council meeting today and at first this was interpreted as being an indication that Spain intended to withdraw from the League. Later, however, the report was current that Spain would take no drastic action.

The Spanish note, which is due to arrive here today, will not be a categorical announcement of the withdrawl from the League, it was reported, but will be a mere announcement that Spain is not interested in the affairs of the Council of the League as her demand for a permanent seat was refused.

Cardinals Win One and Lead in Second

After winning the first game of a double header being played in Chicago the St. Louis Cardinals were well on the way to a second win over the Cubs by having a lead of 9 to 1 in the opening of the ninth inning in the last of today's games. The first game ended 2 to 0.

Blake started pitching for the Cubs but was replaced by Osborne in the sixth inning.

In the second game the Cardinals scored three runs in the third inning, two runs in the fifth inning and two more runs in the sixth inning. The lone Cub score came in the fifth inning.

In the first game, Grover Cleveland Alexander let down his former Clubmates to three scattered hits. The Old Man was at his best and twirled a fine game.

The Cardinals garnered eight hits off Root and Bush, and scored both of their runs in the third inning.

Chicago played errorless ball, while the victors made a pair of bobbles which did not matter to a great extent.

It was truly Alexander's game. In the third he doubled and scored a man on base, and then crossed the plate himself, on Douthit's single.

Washington, Sept. 2.—The industrial nations of the world are looking with envy upon the expansion of America's world trade through the assistance rendered by the department of commerce, it was learned here today.

Business men back from European tours reported to government officials that foreign nations were bartering their own government trade agencies upon a dollars-and-cents service established by the department of commerce to promote American foreign commerce.

The nine-billion-dollar international trade which the United States will show upon its books for the present year, it was said, will be due in large measure to the aid rendered exporters by the commerce department's world-wide trade information service. So far this year, the department has answered from 7,000 to 8,000 business inquiries daily, or at a rate of two million a year.

Mrs. Ed Egley left Monday for Doland, S. Dak., where she was called by the illness of her mother, Mrs. J. M. Thompson.

Weather

Partly cloudy Friday, probably local thunder storms; not much change in temperature.

Franks Slayers May Get Parole in 1935?

Supervisor Of Paroles Advises State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe Of Loophole In Sentences.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Nathan Leopold, jr., and Richard Loeb, "Thrill Slayers" of young Bobbie Franks, will be eligible to parole from Joliet prison in 1935, Hinton C. Clabaugh, state supervisor of paroles, warned State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe.

The loophole for the possible release of the youths lies in the fact that their sentences run concurrently under the statues, Clabaugh told the attorney.

The boys were sentenced to ninety-nine years for kidnapping Bobbie Franks and life for the murder. The law specifies that where one sentence is longer than the other, the longer one must be served first, accepting the life sentence, good behavior under the Illinois merit system would cut the term to a minimum of eleven years. If the ninety nine years was taken as the longer they would be eligible for parole at the end of thirty years.

Are Prepared For Bread, Water Diet

Nebraska Farmers Feasted Yesterday But Go on Meager Rations as Jail Sentences Start.

Tekemaha, Neb., Sept. 2.—Wednesday was feast day at the homes of Ray Carson and Thomas Nelson, young farmers who must serve a jail sentence on bread and water diet for having violated the prohibition law.

Ham and eggs in bountious fashion was the breakfast menu for both homes. There was a breakfast food and plenty of coffee. The bread was buttered.

At noon the menu at the Carson home called for fried chicken, corn on the cob, potatoes and other side dishes to say nothing of the dessert. While at the Nelson home a large thick steak and vegetables which go to make up a meal, graced the table at midday. Pies featured the menu at Nelson's home.

This probably was the last time for twenty-seven days that the two will have a chance to eat anything more than unbuttered bread and cool sparkling water. The supreme court mandate ordering them to start serving their sentence was the announcement of the start of their fast.

The sentence provides the two will serve twenty days on bread and water, twenty on regular prison fare and the remaining twenty on bread and water again.

True liberty means drive as you like so long as you don't obstruct traffic or get on the wrong side of the highway.

Requests League Ban on Liquor Smuggling

Helsingfors—Finland, it is announced, will appeal shortly to the League of Nations to put upon the smuggling of liquor the same international ban, which now obtains against the smuggling of opium.

Ottawa, Ont.—Gold mines of Canada are producing precious metal at the rate of $100,000 a day, according to a report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Wets Call Off Vote on State Liquor Law

Proposition No. 4 Withdrawn By Organization Which Claims Primaries Last Month Victorious.

Washington, Sept. 2.—The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment today requested wet voters of Missouri to withhold support from the referendum calling for the repeal of all existing liquor legislation in the state, which will be voted upon in November.

Washington, Sept. 2.—The wets have "thrown in the sponge" on the pending prohibition referendum in Missouri calling for repeal of the existing state enforcement laws.

In a formal statement last night, Capt. W. H. Stayton, head of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, announced he had telegraphed the executive committee of the association in Missouri, urging it not to support the referendum and that this action had the approval of the national wet organization.

The reason assigned for this course by the wet leader was that both parties had nominated wet senatorial candidates and that as this constituted a decisive referendum, there was no need for direct expression by the voters. Also it was suggested that the referendum, if carried, was unsatisfactory to some of the anti-prohibitionists who did not want to go so far as to repeal the state enforcement law. By declaring against the referendum, Captain Stayton asserted, the drys, who hoped to make capital out of the Missouri situation, would be checkmated as defeat of the referendum could not be attributed to them but to the joint effort of wets and drys.

In Embarrassing Situation.

The statement did not say that, in putting the referendum in the form it is, the wets had got hold of a hot poker and have been trying for days to figure some way out. It was too late to get the referendum off the ballot, so they took the course announced by Captain Stayton. This decision follows closely the position of Senator Reed, who recently expressed dissatisfaction with the referendum proposal.

Noll-Puckett Wedding.

(Bethany Clipper).

The marriage of Miss Ruth Bertha Noll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Edward Noll, to J. Hanson Puckett of Maryville took place at 11 a. m. last Thursday, August 26, at the home of the bride's parents, 1036 Main street.

Rev. T. J. Puckett, father of the bridegroom, read the ceremony. The bridal party stood before an arch formed of lattice work, oak leaves, ferns and gladioli, built into a bay window at the east of the living room. The house was decorated with bouquets of gladioli, ferns and baby wreath.

While Miss Lotz played the wedding march, the bridal party marched down the stairs and took their positions in the living room.

The bride wore a gown of tan silk lace and georgette. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. Her attendants were Miss Mabel June Stubbs of St. Joseph, maid of honor; Mrs. Harold McClellan of Dubuque, Iowa, matron of honor, and Miss Lena Newland of Bethany, bridesmaid. Miss Stubbs wore blue georgette over honey dew, Mrs. McClellan was dressed in peach georgette and Miss Newland wore pink georgette. The three carried arm bouquets of yellow gladioli.

Mr. Puckett was attended by John Price of Maryville as best man and Ernest Noll of Bethany, brother of the bride, as groomsman.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to the bride and groom and the guests. Out-of-town guests were Rev. and Mrs. T. J. Puckett and daughter, Miss Beatrice, Maryville; Miss Mabel June Stubbs, St. Joseph; Mrs. Harold McClelland, Dubuque, Ia.; John Price and Charles Wells, Maryville, and Lloyd Patton, Albany. Other guests at the wedding were immediate relatives and a few close friends.

Early in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Puckett left in their car for a ten days' stay at Clear Lake, Ia. They will make their home at Albany, where Mr. Puckett is a member of the high school faculty as science instructor and athletic coach.

Miss Noll has been quite prominent in Bethany social activities for several years and is one of the most popular of the younger set. She was born and reared in Bethany, was graduated from Bethany high school and from Grinnell college, Grinnell, Ia. Mr. Puckett also has many friends here. He formerly held a place on the Bethany high school faculty before going to Albany.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hanson Puckett thought to escape a "parade" through the downtown streets last Thursday afternoon when leaving town on their wedding trip. They managed to give their friends the slip after leaving the J. E. Noll home, where the marriage took place, and removed the "decorations" from their car before starting out. But near Eagleville they were overtaken by friends, their car was redecorated and they were brought back here for a ride around the square before being permitted to go on their way to Clear Lake, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan will visit relatives in Topeka, Kan., and Oklahoma City, en route to Lubbock, Texas, where they will be at home at the Crystal Hotel of which Mr. Duncan is proprietor. The bride is a graduate of the former Maryville Conservatory of Music and until recently held a position with the Cushman Music House.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin McClain Saturday morning at their home, 129 South Vine street. The baby has been named Betty Juanita. Mrs. McClain was formerly Miss Fern Vinzant of Pickering.

Watch Elimination!

Good Health Depends Upon Good Elimination.

RETENTION of bodily waste in the blood is called a "toxic condition." This often gives rise to a dull, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backaches and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is often shown by burning or scanty passage of secretions. Thousands have learned to assist their kidneys by drinking plenty of pure water and the occasional use of a stimulant diuretic. 50,000 users give Doan's signed endorsement. Ask your neighbor!

Hopkins Picnic Will Continue on Saturday

Many Concessions and Exhibits on Streets—Both Business Streets Are Roped Off.

(Hopkins Journal)

To use a race track expression, "we're off in the mud," or would be but for the fact that we have oiled streets.

It rained Tuesday night and rained again this morning, making it a bit dismal for the opening of the Hopkins Carnival billed for Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of this week, but as we go to press, indications are the rain may be over and everything is now astir on the streets.

The big tent for the farm and fancy work display is up just south of the Fred Gray grocery store, the Ferris Wheel is about ready to begin revolving on Third street and the Merry-go-round is located on Barnard street.

Both the business streets are roped off and filled with side shows and concessions of various kinds, some fifteen or twenty in all, giving the town the appearance of Coney Island when things were "damp."

By reason of the rain, the committee has decided to continue the picnic one day longer than advertised, or until Saturday night and if the weather man is willing, Hopkins will be full to running over the balance of the week.

The horse show and stock judging will be on Thursday. There will be a ball game both Thursday and Friday afternoons and amusements galore Saturday afternoon. Watch for the "bucking Ford" that will perform every afternoon.

J. Ross Fleetwood, county farm agent, R. A. Kinnaird, J. F. Roelofson, Mrs. F. R. Marcell and Mrs. Fleetwood went to Hopkins today where they will judge exhibits at the street fair being held there this week.

Observe 40th Wedding Anniversary.

The fortieth wedding anniversary of the Rev. Henry A. Sawyers, pastor of Faith Presbyterian Church in St. Joseph, and Mrs. Sawyers was celebrated with a family reunion today at the home of the former's brother, J. K. Sawyers, sr., on North Main street. French Shop Keepers Prey Upon American Tourists and Charge Excessive Prices

The following article by O. H. Sayler of Hopkins, a member of the recent Kiwanis excursion to Europe, is taken from this week's issue of the Hopkins Journal. Mr. Sayler is a son of Judge J. H. Sayler of Maryville.

"La! La! La! La!" and the Frenchman expresses his disgust with you if he thinks you are misleading him or if he is in a wrangle with you in which he thinks his side of the argument is correct or if he wants to pull a "bluff" on you in the argument.

In an argument between two Frenchmen on a public street in Paris one morning a few weeks since, when the words became hot, and, rattled like canister shot against a sheet of steel, this expression was sounded by one man to the other and we were curious to know what it meant and what the climax would be. Unless you could understand the French language you might think dire destruction was near at hand for one or the other, but no such ending to their argument happened and soon all was peace and happiness.

A street fakir had sold an old lady member of our party a small rug for about three times its value before anybody realized he had beaten her, and our French guide was chiding him for having taken her money in that way. The argument became hot and threatening and the fakir was made to leave the party of American tourists before any more damage financially was done and no physical damage to the French.

Quite a joke in connection with this deal is that the French guide had the day previous deliberately short changed and overcharged several of the same party out at Versailles and when faced with it said he would take all he could get every time.

It became very evident that the average "run" of Frenchmen could not be trusted and that the old addage "caveat emptor" "Let the buyer beware" should be emblazoned on every door post, sign board or public place where the unsuspecting American tourist could read it readily. It made a final impression on the tourist crowd that all Frenchmen are thieves and it was another case where the honest people are often blamed for the wiles of the crooks.

Strangers sojourning in a strange land are always open marks for dishonest people and it is wise to be prepared by a little forethought before acting, at any time. The better class merchants, banks, railroad and steamer offices and respected French citizens, like in any other nation are honorable and fair in their dealings and have no thought of taking advantage of you because you are a stranger. The highest praise is justly due this class of citizens, who came in contact with our tourist people, for their kindness and consideration in acting on the requests and personal whims of a party of more than six hundred, all of whom had notions of their own that must be satisfied then and there.

The hotel employes were very patient and obliging, though they could not speak a word of English and had to call an interpreter at almost every contact with an American, and the "jitney" drivers, store clerks, merchants, everybody, did their best to please the Americans. Not a word that we could understand was ever offered because of the political situation between the two countries, to suggest abuse or disgust us, for which we were duly thankful.

A large part of the residents of France, and England as well, are suffering from the devastations of war and it will continue for ages to come. Political affairs and all outward physical evidence pointed out plainly that the European nations are made up of war-like people and their first desires is to show the relics of bloodshed and war of ages past. France has a standing army now of something like half a million men, afraid Germany may jump up another opportunity for war and they would not be prepared. It may be a wise precaution, but Americans who believe in peace, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, do not encourage the ever present "chip on the shoulder" ready to be knocked off.

A trip through the city of Paris and through the country districts showed plainly the sufferings of the peasant people, the undoubted shortage of the CHAPTER I.

Mrs. Prentiss enjoyed insomnia, but she didn't know it.

That is, she knew she had insomnia, of course, but she didn't know she enjoyed it. On the contrary, she thought it made her miserable. But it didn't. It was really her best asset, socially, and she could get herself into the limelight almost any time by descanting and dilating upon her long hours of wakefulness when others were sleeping.

Sympathy flowed freely at hearing of her weary vigils, her interminable but futile efforts to get to sleep, her tossings and turnings on her bed of unrest.

Partly because of a physical tendency that way, and partly by reason of nurturing, pampering and aggrevating the disease, Mrs. Prentis was chronically and happily insomniac.

Which explains why, one night, she prowled about her bedroom, in her not very fetching mid-Victorian nightdress, and gazed out of one window after another.

For her bedroom had windows facing three ways, which enabled the wakeful Mrs. Prentiss to note conditions in the houses of her neighbors on either side as well as across the street.

And, from a window that looked west, she could see, late as it was, sundry goings on that thrilled her curious soul. And, when the goings on had ceased and no hint of them was left save two tiny specks of light, Mrs. Prentiss thought the show was over, only to have it reopened two or three times more.

Breathlessly she watched, and, though her soliloquized exclamations were of homely diction, such as "For the Land's sake!" or "My goodness!" they nonetheless evpressed the whole gamut of human surprise and wonderment.

The Harbor was, as harbors have a way of being, crescent shaped, and down to the middle of its curving rim ran a little stream of pleasant water.

Though really a tiny river, the stream was called Gaybrook and was as pretty as its name.

Now this arbitrary provision of nature divided the Harbar into halves socially as well as topographically. Not far from the shore, a bridge, a miniature Rialto, connected the land on the two sides of Gaybrook, but except for that there was a great gulf fixed.

On one side, the north side, the collection of estates and dwellings was called Harbor Gardens, and the other side was Harbor Park.

United municipally, geographically and patriotically, the two were yet divided socially, or at least in some phases of the social life.

Harbor Park was there first, and it held the railroad station, the postoffice, the church, the clubhouse, the amusement halls and the "places" of many of the rich and great, whose greatness was the direct result of their riches. They were men of wealth, with wives of extravagance, with spoiled children and pampered servants. They were, for the most part, men of hearty good fellowship, of outdoor habits and convivial tastes.

Now, somewhat as a reaction, there had sprung up on the other side of the bridge, the modern institution known as an artist colony.

As one of their brilliant-minded youths put it, "In Harbor Gardens you find men who do things. In Harbor Park, you find men who do people."

Yet they came together in many ways. They all belonged to the one and only country club, they all went to the one and only church and they all shopped at the stores in Harbor Park. In fact, there were no outward and ordinary signs of friction or dissension, but the Park people felt they were more worthwhile than the Gardens people, while the Gardeners, as they came to be called, knew they were superior to the Parkers.

So the Harbor people lived and flourished, with the silent bond of the Harbor holding them together, and the subtle bar of the bridge dividing them.

Mrs. Prentiss, she of the insomnia, was a resident of the Gardens. The widow of an artist, she had lived on in their attractive bungalow, covered with honeysuckle and Virginia creeper, and furnished with wicker things and rush rugs.

Next door to her, toward the west, was the far more pretentious bungalow of the Perry Heaths. It was indeed, a two-story house, but when Heath was told that bungalows didn't have more than one story, he merely replied, "This bungalow has."

He was an artist, was Perry Heath, and though his pictures were not of great value, they were graceful little aquarelles, and found an ultimate if not a ready sale in the New York shops.

That is, they had done so, but with the recent fad for "no pictures at all," the water color Othello began to find his occupation going.

Yet, in a way, it didn't matter much, for Myra, his wife, had always had money, and recently, by reason of an uncle's death, had inherited a lot more. Heath's work was rather desultory, anyway. He painted when he felt like it, and the rest of the time he spent on the water or in it, or, else he ran down to New York for a few days.

An impulsive, irresponsible existence was his, but his artistic temperament balked at dates or fixed hours, and he was far from being alone in that attitude.

Myra Heath, an acknowledged beauty, of the ash blond, Saint Cecelia type, was superior and self-contained by nature. Many called her cold, others opined her inordinately calm exterior covered a flaming Vesuvius of temper, if not temperament.

No one ever caught sign of a jarring note between husband and wife, yet no one ever saw a sign of affection. If they did not wash their dirty linen in public, neither did they air their clean linen there, and this mere absence of anything to talk about caused the gossips to talk volubly about them.

The neighbor, Mrs. Prentiss, was deeply curious and spent much of her insomnia at her west window, hoping for a cloud as big as a man's hand to appear, that she might draw come conclusions as to the family status.

So far, she had been unsuccessful. The Heaths lived most naturally and ordinarily. Now and then they had parties. Now and then they went to parties. He went to the club, she went to bridge games, and they both went to church. A more exemplary couple could not be imagined. Yet Mrs. Prentiss, perhaps in the vagaries of her insomnia, had a persistent intuition that there was a fly in the Heath ointment, and she was determined to swat it.

The bungalow of the artist was a long-fronted house, shingled and painted white. With the superior taste of the Harbor Gardens crowd, he scorned such things as living rooms, sun parlors, breakfast alcoves and sleeping porches.

The whole of the middle of the house was one great room, called the lounge, which had doors back and front, and from which the staircase ascended. Then, one end was the studio, spacious and well lighted, and the other end the dining room. That was all, save for the long rear extension back of the dining room, which housed the kitchens and servants' quarters.

Owing to the large size of the rooms there was ample space upstairs for many chambers, guest rooms and baths.

A wide brick terrace ran along the whole front of the house, and the back doors opened onto the garden.

The studio was on the end of the house next Mrs. Prentiss, and its great rear windows looking north, showed the garden, a blazing mass of color all through the season.

Though the lounge was attractive, and planned with an eye to comfort and convenience, the studio was also a comfortable cozy room, and oftener than not, family and guests gathered there to smoke and talk, for Perry Heath was never too busy to stop work.

It was on a soft, lovely evening in late June that the two Heaths sat there with two house guests, who, as they figure largely in this story, may as well be described here.

things that make for a good living and a satisfied people and the terrible devastation in a war-torn and, that surely these hard-working people do not wish for a repetition of such terrible catastrophies as that from which they are just no wtrying to rebuild. Taxes for supporting the government and large army and for paying the war obligations are a great burden and very likely are at the bottom of the unpleasant relations that at time develop between our nation and France and between American torists and the French people, about which we read accasionally.

Mr. Farmer-
Are your hogs taking on weight as they should or are they Wormy?

Farmers have learned long ago that wormy hogs are poor finincial investments. It pays in Dollars and Cents to have Worm Free hogs.

We have a new proposition on Dr. Hess' Stock Tonic- come in and talk it over

Report of Test by Ohio State Veterinary.

A bunch of wormy shoats were separated into two pens, equal in weight. Pen No 1 was given capsules and Pen No. 2 was given Dr. Hess worming dose the first two weeks then the thriving dose. Both pens received all the corn they could consume.

At the end of the first week Capsule pen had gained 29 lbs; tonic pen 146.

Second week, capsules had gained 104 lbs; tonic pen 246. Sixth week capsules had gained 371; tonic pen 668. At the end of six weeks both pens were sold at 11c per lb. The gain on capsules fed hogs was $40.81. The gain on tonic hogs was $73.48.

Judge for yourself what Dr. Hess Tonic will do for your hogs.

BEFORE HER BABY CAME

Used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Adkins, Texas.—"Before my baby came I was so weak I had to stay in bed most of the time until I began taking Lydia E. Pinkhams Vegetable Compound. My mother-in-law, who is a midwife, told me it was all foolishness for me to stay in bed. She told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it would help me. She handed me one of your little books and I read it and was interested in it. I went to a drug-store that night and got a bottle of your wonderful medicine. I took it until the baby was born and was able to be up and do my work. Baby is 4½ months old now and weighs 14 pounds. I have plenty of milk for her and she gains steadily. I recommend it. I am willing to answer letters and will do anything I can for any woman, for I know how I suffered."—MRS. A. H. TSCHIRHART, R. No. 2, Box 39, Adkins, Texas.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been in use by women for over fifty years. It is a vegetable tonic made from roots and herbs and is sold by all druggists.

Recommended by women everywhere.

Attack on University Accompanies Big Gift

Berkeley, Cal., Sept. 2.—Along with a gift of his $200,000 estate to the University of California, William H. Smyth, noted inventor and philosopher of this city, attacked the present educational system he hoped his gift would benefit.

In announcing donation of his eight-acre estate to the school, Smyth contended the methods of education are all wrong and, like Topsy, "just growed." He said that instead of preparing the rising generation for life, college training as meted out today has no value whatever to the average college graduate.

"The college and university of today has a tendency to turnout animated jumbled indexes, not trained human beings," he asserted.

"Educational ideas are bound to undergo great changes and the hope for the future rests in science and a scientific training."

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Grain prices crashed to levels well below those of yesterday's close on the Chicago Board of Trade for want of buying power.

Wheat was 2¼ to 2⅞ cents lower. Values dropped late in the session on the weakness of corn, the lower Winnipeg prices increased estimates of the Canadian yield, and the lack of buying power to absorb the offerings of tired holders.

Corn sold off on heavy profits, taking from 1¼ to 1⅜ cents lower at the close. There was good shipping demand for the old grain. Cash prices were steady.

Oats was the firmest grain on the floor.

Provisions closed lower on liquidations and weakness in hogs.

COWS KEPT IN FACTORY

HOLLAND CHEESE FACTORIES USED AS BARNS.

MISS TATE RETURNS

Member Of Kiwanis Club Touring Party In From Europe. Likes English People Best.

Cheese factories in Holland are exceedingly clean places notwithstanding that the cows are kept there during the winter months, according to Miss Jeannette Tate, of Maryville, who yesterday morning arrived in Maryville after touring Europe with members of the Shenandoah, Iowa, Kiwanis Club party, since July. Miss Tate toured England, France, Switzerland, Germany, Holland and Belgium.

"When we visited a large cheese factory near Amsterdam it was interesting to learn that the spotlessly clean place was used as cow barns during the winter months," Miss Tate said. "The floor of the factory was of white tile and clean from much scrubbing.

"Amsterdam is a queer city, it being set on piles. Many of the houses lean far to one side and appear as if they were ready to topple into the canals and streets. Our guide told us that there were 70 canals and 500 bridges in that city. And bicycles! Everyone rides that sort of thing in Holland, where there are few motor cars. Bicycle dealers do a big business and now there are more than 175,000 bicycles in that small country.

"A trip to the Isle of Marken was worth the while for there the old costumes are worn and ancient Dutch customs observed. On this small island everyone is related to each other for it has been a rule for the Marken's never to marry outside of their little colony.

"The Swiss people were kind to us and we enjoyed our stay there. We were in Lucerne and made a few photographs there while traveling over a glacier.

"The Germans were friendly and held no dislike against us such as the French displayed. While none of the members of our party had any disagreements with the French there were Americans in Paris when we were there, who did have trouble. However, a dislike toward us was apparent.

"The airplane trip from Brussels, Belgium, to London was full of thrills. The first part of the flight was very pleasant but the plane drove into a storm and the plane got into some rough air. It was necessary to land thirty miles out of London in the rain and go from there to the city in a motor car.

"English people are friendly to Americans and are very pleasant folk. I believe I liked the English people better than any others met on the trip."

Nodaway County Men at Annual Convention

John Gex of Graham and Thomas Tallon of Maryville are members of a resolution committee of 15 of the Missouri Farmers Association in its annual convention at Sedalia, Mo., which opened yesterday. Others from Nodaway County are in attendance at the annual meeting which is attended by 2,500 from all over the state.

Secretary H. A. Cowden of Columbia submitted his annual report. He also reviewed the progress of the association and expressed appreciation for loyalty to it. In accomplishments he referred to the organization of 410 live stock shipping associations, handling in 1925 nearly 20,000 cars of live stock. He also told of the operation of five live stock commission companies and said in four years the sales through these companies totaled $221,527,296.53.

The record on poultry and eggs handled through the producers' exchanges were also reviewed and he stated that 12 such plants were in operation, erected at an expense of $357,525.

The operation of a purchasing department at Columbia and a feed mill at Springfield were pronounced by him as being a success.

The organization of 18 new exchanges during the year were reported, as well as eight new live stock shipping bodies.

Others from this part of the state who are attending the meeting are John Busch, Pickering, C. A. Tiffany, and J. J. Russell, Maryville.

Wightmans Buy Rock Port Journal

(Bethany Republican)

The Rock Port Journal, Atchison county newspaper, was purchased Thursday of last week by P. G. Wightman of Bethany and "Bud" Wightman of Chillicothe from A. J. Martin of Braymer, Mo., who had owned the paper for several months.

Seen Monday upon his arrival here, P. G. Wightman said the newspaper had been purchased as an investment. It is his present intention to leave its operation in the hands of the same force of men who have been handling it since it was purchased by Martin, who also publishes the Braymer Bee. Some changes may be made, or may not, upon a visit Wightman will make to Rock Port within the next few days. Wightman will not give up his work with the Kansas City Journal-Post in order to publish the Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Kinder and Mrs. Mary Maher returned last night from a ten days' motor trip to the Ozarks and Springfield where they visited relatives and friends.
